Navaneeth V
Technical Project Lead

Professional Summary

Writing programs for machines is not a big deal. However, for easy maintenance and scaling the web architecture needs to follow design patterns.

I'm well versed with Object Oriented Principles & Patterns, Relational DB Design, Code Debugging & Query Optimization, Core Web Vitals & Web Components and Code Version Controls.

I'm fascinated by technology that makes me a lifelong student and I constantly learn new things because I never settle. I'm passionate about staying organized and freeing everyone's life struggles. Lifting the weight on the shoulders of my team member gives me such a real joy in my heart, I always do my best to improve it.

My vision is to become a web sorcerer that everyone likes to count on.
